Consent Form Cash Reference Margin Pilot AgriStability

Complete this consent form to participate in the AgriStability cash reference margin pilot. Under the pilot, we will calculate your reference margin using the cash income and expenses you reported for income tax purposes, with no accrual adjustments applied. To participate in the pilot for the 2021 program year, you must:

- Farm in Ontario.
- File your taxes on the cash basis.
- Be enrolled in AgriStability for the 2021 program year. If your Year-End Report and Claim Form has already been processed for the 2021 program year, you can not join the pilot.
- Complete and return this consent form by March 31, 2022.

Important: For combined operations, each member of the whole farm must participate in the pilot. For partnerships, each partner can decide if they want to participate. If you are a new or rejoining participant, we may need to contact you for additional information to build your production margin and confirm your reference margin.

2. Understand that my reference margin will be calculated on the cash basis and I will not be able to change back to the accrual method for the 2021 program year.
